About our Cast

Sara Wills: Sara's most recent stage appearance was as the lead in "A Bad Year for Tomatoes" with Spotlight Players. She works at Ivy Tech/IUPUI in Carmel, and in a previous life was the supervisor of the Victim Advocate Unit in the Marion County Prosecutor's Office. She would like to thank her drama teacher, Eileen Ackman, whose praise and encouragement led her to community theater. Most of all she thanks her husband, Steve, for his support and domestic sacrifice. He embraces her love of theater and wisely predicted, "I always knew she'd turn Thespian."

Jeff Chandler: Jeff is proud to be appearing in yet another show on the Belfry stage. He has recently been seen in "Moon Over Buffalo", "Brigadoon", and "Caught In The Villain's Web" since his first Belfry appearance in "The Snow Ball". In addition, he is adept at backstage work and has been behind the scenes of "Grand Night for Singing" and "Sugar Babies" at (Footlite Musicals). Jeff is also a member of the Belfry's Marketing Committee and is involved in the Apprentice Players. Jeff is an IT Technician for Martin Marietta Aggregates and also shares his love of theatre with his wife, Liz.

Lauren Hunt: Lauren is very excited to be having her stage debut at The Belfry. She is a junior at IUPUI majoring in computer science and minoring in math. Lauren would like to thank her parents for supporting her in these pursuits as well as her involvement in Phi Mu Sorority, Rock climbing club, School of Science Student Council and Computer Science Club, for which is the treasurer. Their support has also been invaluable in her efforts to restart the Indiana chapter of The Association of Women in Science, traveling to Australia to study abroad and everything else that she does.

Sam Bailey: Sam is a recent Ball State graduate with a Bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice & Criminology. This is Sam's first production with The Belfry. Some of his past productions include "Guys & Dolls", "Under Milkwood", "Hello Dolly", "You Can't Take It With You", "Godspell" and "Go Ask Alice". He would like to thank his family and loved ones for their love and support, and getting him through college. He would also like to say, "Hi Mom, I'm on stage again and I love you Kym."

Connie Murello-Todd: Oh, what fun! After 11 shows at The Belfry, doing jobs like set decoration, stage manager, props, assistant director and director, I finally get to be on stage. All of this would not be possible without the complete support of my family. Thank you so much to my husband David, my daughters Joey Murello and Sarah Todd, my son Scott Hill and my grandson Tyler Todd who are either in performances or working behind the scenes. To the rest of my children, thank you for being you. Each one of you makes my heart sing. My sincerest thanks to The Belfry for their diligence in making sure this venue exists for all of us to enjoy. To the cast and crew, "Break a Leg" and "I love you all!" And Ron, "Thank you".

Duane Leatherman: Duane has performed on stage in community theatres around Central Indiana, including Wabash Civic, Anderson Civic, Carmel Old School Players, Edyvean, Indianapolis Civic, The Belfry, and Footlite Musicals. He has been nominated for Encore Awards for his portrayals of FDR in "Annie" and "Annie Warbucks" and as Mayor Shinn in "Music Man", all at Footlite. He is excited to be back on the Belfry stage again and to work with Ron and the rest of this great cast and crew. He teaches math and computer science at Butler University, where he and his wife, Linnea, live in a residence hall with 400 students as part of the faculty-in-residence program.

About our Cast

Terry Prentkowski: Terry first appeared on The Belfry stage 22 years ago in the production of "13 Rue De Lamour". Since then he has appeared in numerous other productions where he has not only acted, but has worked behind the scenes primarily in set design and construction. He received an Encore Award for "Best Set Design" for the production of "Noises Off". Away from The Belfry, he has continued to be involved in theatre as both an actor and director at time permits. Terry is employed by Prince/Alexander Partners as a design technician and historic preservation specialist. He continues to do freelance design work where he has received three design awards.

Kelly Tully: Kelly is excited to be performing at The Belfry for the first time. She has been actively involved in theater and musical theater most of her life, performing in both high school and college productions. Upon graduation from Florida State University, Kelly pursued a career in public relations and marketing, until she and her husband Rob moved to Fishers three years ago. Kelly is now busy playing the role of Mom to her two year old daughter Grace.

Nancy Lafferty: Nancy is delighted to be performing at The Belfry for the first time. While she is new to the Indiana area theatres, she has been involved in theatre all of her life. She was in her first play in sixth grade, and has performed on many stages since. For twenty years, she taught theatre in high schools and colleges in South Carolina, Florida and Georgia. She currently teaches Title Reading at George Washington Community School, in IPS. She has two sons, Chad and Luke.

Brenna Campbell: Brenna is thrilled to return to The Belfry where she was seen as "Scraps" in last season's production of "Talking With." Brenna holds a B.S. Degree in Theater from Indiana State University and has worked professionally at the Shawnee Summer Theater, The Showboat Becky Thatcher, and ISU SummerStage. Her favorite roles include Catherine in "Pippin," Luisa in "The Fantasticks," Agnes in Moliere's "School for Wives," and Phyllis in "Central Park West." She would like to give a special Thank You to the Hyde's for "adopting" her.... and Harley.

John C Sampson: John began his work at The Belfry theatre in 1983. Twenty-two plays and eighteen sets later he says, "I still love theatre people. Working with Ron is always a pleasure and I thank him for his confidence in me and his support. He is the example of art and the theatre." To the cast he says "Break a leg".

Ron Richards: Ron has been directing at The Belfry for thirteen years now, beginning with the apprentice players production of "Brighton Beach Memoirs" in 1991 and his regular season debut with "Play It Again Sam" in 1993. Since then he has acted in, directed or worked on more than twenty additional productions here. He has also been actively involved with other theaters, like Central Players, and the production of Shakespeare In The Park in Noblesville. He has received several nominations for Encore Awards and won for his portrayal of Mickey Gorski / Lucious in "Greetings".

Chapter Two

By Neil Simon
Directed by Christy Clinton

Opening April 16th

Comedy and pathos mingle brilliantly in this portrait of George, a recently widowed novelist who fears he'll never love again and has no interest in dating. Neither does smart, attractive Jennie Malone, who has just returned from getting a Mexican divorce. George's matchmaking brother urges him to get out and have a good time. A five-minute meeting between George and Jennie blossoms into a passionate, whirlwind romance. Too late, after they marry, they find that unresolved conflicts are undermining their marriage..

The Seven Year Itch

by George Axelrod
Directed by Carla Crandall

Opening June 11th

New Yorker Richard is on the verge of a mid-life crisis. With his wife and child out of town for the summer, he finds himself alone for the first time in his life. A chance meeting with the luscious young woman who lives above his apartment fuels his desire to take advantage of his freedom. In the pursuit of romance, Richard is faced with a series of obstacles including visitors with bad timing, an over-active conscience, rusty dating skills, and the fear of changing his life. Show played on Broadway three years and was adapted for Hollywood in the box office hit starring Marilyn Monroe.
